Yesterday I went to the store to get some snacks for my lunch. When I got into the store I was so warm that I had to unzip my coat. As I was walking around the store, all of a sudden my cart disappeared and I couldn't find it anywhere. I was thinking "Oh no! I'm going to have to redo all of my groceries." At the time I felt like it was going to be impossible to restart finding all of the delicious snacks for my lunch because I dislike going up and down all of the long aisles. But I changed my mindset and started to collect all of the things on my list again. When I got to the line up at the cash I unloaded all of my snacks and paid the cashier. In the end my growth mindset helped me be unstoppable! Now I'm headed home to preheat the oven so I can bake the delicious muffins that I bought. If you're ever unsure of what to do when you hit a roadblock, always take the time to reset your mindset!

Math - We've been doing a lot of work on polygons, especially quadrilaterals. On the back of this page is a chart to help identify these quadrilaterals.

Draw a quadrilateral with one set of parallel sides and write its name.
Draw a rectangle and show where its right angles are.

Mrs. Prevost says that the shape below is a square. Mrs. Hannigan politely disagrees. Who is correct? Explain your thinking.
